

ABOUT THE GAME

Hi-Lo is a game where the aim is to guess the next card! Once you press BET, the game begins. You will then be able to choose from four options to guess the value or color of the next card.

FEATURES

BET AND WIN

Before placing your bet, you may skip the current card and receive a new card as many times as you like. Perhaps you have a lucky card you want to start with, or you always want to start with a King or an Ace? Whatever you prefer, Hi-Lo lets you play your way.

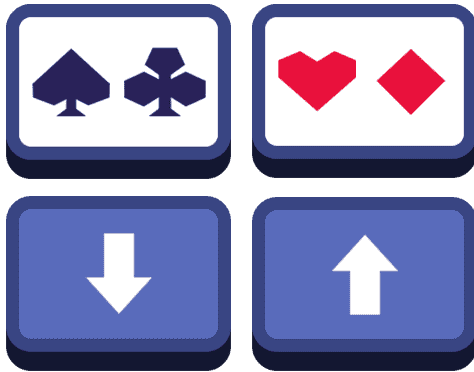

Once you press BET the game will start with the card shown in the middle of the screen. You may keep playing until you collect your winnings, or until you lose.

GUESS THE NEXT CARD

You can choose from four available options to guess what the next card will be. As soon as you press one of the four buttons the next card will appear. If you guessed correctly, it will count as a win and the winning amount will be added to your collectable win amount. If you guess incorrectly, the game will end and you will lose all your winnings. Every new card is randomly picked from a new deck of cards, meaning that the same card can appear more than once per game and the odds of getting a certain card is not affected by the current or preceding cards.

The four options available to choose from are:

- Higher or same: Guess that the next card will be of a higher or equal value to the current card. King is the highest value card.
- Lower or same: Guess that the next card will be of a lower or equal value to the current card. Ace is the lowest value card.
- Red: Guess that the next card will be a red card.
- Black: Guess that the next card will be a black card.

Under each option are two numbers: the left number shows the amount (as a multiple of your bet) that your collectable win amount will increase to if you guess correctly by choosing that option; the right number shows the odds (as a percentage) of this guess being correct based on the current card in play.

During the game you may also skip the current card and receive a new card up to 5 times per round. Once you have skipped 5 cards, you must make a new choice from the four options above before you may skip again.

COLLECT YOUR WIN

For each correct guess, the win for that guess will be added to your collectable amount. At any point in the game, before making your next guess, you can choose to collect your win instead of continuing to play. Doing so awards you the full collected win amount and ends the current game.

The collectable win amount is shown on the COLLECT button under the current card.

RETURN TO PLAYER

The RTP of this game is 98%. The RTP is deterministically calculated by a theoretical probability model. The RTP was verified by running 10,000,000,000 simulations.

The max win for this game is 5000 times your bet.

If the prize awarded by the next correct guess on one of the four options would cause your collectable win amount to exceed the max win, that option will be disabled. If all options are disabled, your collectable win amount will be automatically awarded and the game will end.

WAYS TO WIN

Place a bet to start the game. Make at least one correct guess by choosing one of the four options and then collect your winnings.
